Preaching Mission Affords Students Valuable Experience

Seven seniors who have spent at least four years on the student-side of the chapel platform had opportunity last week to discover what it was like to be on the other side of the pulpit.

With Prof. A. Elwood Sanner presiding, the Student Preaching Mission was initiated by Roy Harris, Jr., who spoke on Monday morning. Jim Martin, senior speech major, spoke Tuesday followed by Wendell Poole, graduate student, on Wednesday. Poole was president of last year's senior class.

Billye Messerly represented the distaff side of the profession when she spoke in College Church Wednesday night. Thursday's message was brought by Clarence Kinzler, senior athlete and speech major. Morris Weigelt, graduate student and last year's valedictorian, spoke Friday morning. Concluding message of the mission was brought by Deb Laws, ASB president, in College Church on Sunday night.

All seven student preachers have definite plans for the future.

Harris, Martin and Kinzler will return to NNC for graduate work. Poole and Weigelt plan to attend Nazarene Theological Seminary in Kansas City, Mo. Laws and Mrs. Messerly will move out into the pastorate with Laws taking the church at Port Orchard, Wash. and Mrs. Messerly accepting a call to Ely, Nev.

Entry Date Set For Dooley Award

COMIC OPERAS HIGHLIGHT MUSIC DEPARTMENT'S YEAR

Two comic operas, "The Telephone" by Menotti and "Trial By Jury" by Gilbert and Sullivan were presented by the NNC music department last week.

Featured in "The Telephone" were Pansy Martin, soprano from Rock Springs, Wyo. and Prof. James Carkhuff, baritone. Double E. Hill, general director for the program, pointed out that "The Telephone" is a comparatively new work having been composed in 1947.

Six students played leading roles in the Gilbert and Sullivan favorite. Cast as the learned judge was Bill Vimont, senior from Nampa. Jessie Newman, Nampa soprano, sang the part of the plaintiff. Dean Boring, tenor from Portland, Ore., was cast as the defendant. Bob Faris, tenor from Boise, was the counsel for the plaintiff. Alan Rodda, baritone from Walla Walla, Wash., was court usher, and D. Roy Franklin, bass from Gooding, Idaho, played the foreman of the jury.

The chorus numbers included bridesmaids, jurymen and spectators.

Bridesmaids were: Marva Lund, Norma Dean, Mona Hulen, Joyce Carlson, Sheila Schaper and Virginia Taylor.

Cast as jurymen were: Elvin Bartholomew, Bob Hansen, Bob Hughes, Chet Thomas, Ben Clouser and Tommy Kegley.

The spectators were: Mary Waller, Barbara Kiel, Rosemary Werner, Melva Cullens, Margaret Snarr, Peg Jensen, Betty Haynes, Florine Pywell, Mary Albers, Doris Johnson and Florine Wilson.

Assisting Mr. Hill in the production were: Mrs. Deloris Waller, chorus director; Prof. Warnie Tippitt, vocal coach; Mrs. Ruby Sanner, accompanist; Don Thompson, general stage designer and manager; Miss Dorothy Long and Art Methods class, sets.

In addition to the above names, the programs carried a listing of acknowledgements to a number of faculty members, students and Nampa business establishments who cooperated with the music department in making the operas a success.

Student Officials Attend Conference

President elect Dick Ramsey, ASB Prexy, Deb Laws and Bill Jackson, vice president, went to Phoenix, Arizona recently to attend the Western States Student Presidents' Meeting.

Sessions were held on the campus of the University of Arizona and the NNC delegates were loud in their praise of the program. Extra-session activities included citrus fruit picking during the late evening hours, according to the trio.

On their return trip to Nampa, Ramsey, Laws and Jackson stopped off at Cedar City, Utah where they watched the Crusader baseball team win the ICAC conference title.

Three Women Students Take Top Scholarship Honors For 1957

It would seem that the Class of '57 favors its scholarship with a feminine accent.

During Senior Investiture practice recently, Dean Thelma B. Culver revealed that three women have walked off with top scholastic honors this year.

Sharing valedictory honors are Mrs. Patricia Weigelt of Brainerd, Minn. and Mrs. Marie Jacques Johnson of Nampa. Betty Dalen, Vancouver, Wash., is salutatorian.

A speech major, Mrs. Weigelt is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Somerville of Brainerd. She plans to teach in Kansas City, Mo. next year while her husband, Morris A. Weigelt (last year's valedictorian), attends Nazarene Theological Seminary.

Mrs. Johnson is a teacher in the Nampa public schools. An elementary education major, she is now teaching first grade at Eastside school.

Miss Dalen is a biological science major. Recently she was granted

A Senior Speaks About . . .

PRIVILEGED CHARACTERS

First of all, we at NNC are privileged to prepare for our life's work at a Christian college. We really are fortunate to get to attend college at all in a world where so many have so little opportunity for education. It is no small factor that we are able to sit in the classroom under dedicated men and women of God and reap the heritage of sacrifice that has carried Christianity down through the centuries and made it possible for us to have a Christian education.

Another privilege we enjoy is that of worship. On our campus God is given pre-eminence in all activities and we should not fail to remember that this is not the pattern in all colleges.

We should not only appreciate our godly professors for their academic contribution to our lives but for the personal interest they take in our spiritual welfare and everyday problems. This husbanding of our total personalities should result in well-rounded character.

Finally, we are privileged to serve our present generation. Having received the benefits of such a personalized Christian education, we can anticipate the future with poise and assurance.

We are indeed privileged characters!

—Billye Messerly

WHAT IS IMPORTANT?

What is the most important part of your college life? If this question were asked of 200 NNC students there would undoubtedly be 200 different answers. One might say it is the experience of living in the dorm. Probably the majority of the fellows would say some form of sports. Of course, to those in love, all else is unimportant. Last but not least, a few might put importance in studies and real education (perish the thought!) Seriously, the year will soon be over, and it will start stretching into a life ahead. Many are spending their last year under the influence of a Christian college. During this springtime, each student should take a look at himself and set up a real standard of values. In the years that lie ahead, will the things that he counts most important now have the most lasting value? Let's make decisions and set high goals, then push forward with all enthusiasm, realizing what real importance means.

Hawaiian Student Meets Pen Pal

A long time dream of one of our college girls was fulfilled during Easter vacation this year. The dream came true when Kathy Valdez of Hawaii met her pen pal of eight years, Chloe Manning of Delta, Utah.

The two friends met after having shared many of their most intimate secrets with one another for these past years. The girls have written regularly over this period of time and have exchanged gifts on all significant holidays and other special occasions. The last special occasion, by the way, was when twins were born to Mr. and Mrs. Manning. Kathy's gift to them was sweater sets which she crocheted herself. They were dressed in these for the christening service which Kathy was able to attend while visiting them.

The teacher who introduced the girls is teaching in Delta now, so Kathy visited her classroom and talked about old times with her.

The friendship was begun when the girls were in the seventh grade. The teacher, Miss Hanson of Delta, Utah was teaching for a two-year period in Hawaii when she started the two girls writing.

Hagood Chosen To Head FTA

At a dessert banquet held recently in Morrison Dining Hall, NNC's E. E. Angell chapter of Future Teachers of America chose Julian Hagood, Junior from Nampa, to serve as FTA president next year. Hagood is taking secondary education and plans to be a high school teacher.

Other officers selected by the group were: Don Broomfield, vice president; Ruth Barber, corresponding secretary; Anna Mae Bauerle, recording secretary and Peggy Wood, treasurer.

Mrs. Edythe M. Leupp, FTA adviser, reported recently that the Nampa club has a roster of 135 members. Club members recently went to a meeting sponsored by the BJC future teachers on the Boise campus.

Larry Halter, NNC junior, was elected this year to head the Idaho state future teacher organization next year. Norman Crofford, NNC graduate, was the first president of the state FTA. Crofford and Miss Inez Woesner, now president of the state Classroom Teachers' Organization, worked out many of the present policies and procedures of the group.

CWB Boasts Successful Year With 200 Members, Good Leadership

By DEE FREEBORN

The largest and most active club on our campus is the Christian Workers Band, composed of over 200 students participating regularly in religious services. The activities and plans of the organization are handled through an executive committee made up of the president, vice president, secretary, treasurer and program chairman. The members are organized into seven groups, each headed by a group leader. Group leaders for this year have been: Gene Smith, Roger Burkhart, Jim Martin, George Zickefoose, Ken Spicer, Jerry Groenig and Clayton Bonar.

The Sunday activities for each group are packed with rest home visitations, visits to the hospital to sing in the hospital choir, and services at the jail. Once a month, a music group is sent to the Idaho State Penitentiary to supply music for the morning worship service. On Sunday afternoon, March 17, a group of 19 young people conducted a two-hour singspiration at the penitentiary. There were two male quartets and two ladies ensembles represented.

Another active phase of CWB is the opportunity they have to conduct Sunday and weekend services. It has been estimated from records on hand that over 65 services were held by the young people, utilizing 330 students. During the break between semesters, CWB received 21 requests for weekend Youth Revivals. A conservative estimate puts the total mileage traveled so far this year at well over 12,000 miles.

Traveling groups visited Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Nevada, Utah and Wyoming, roaming as far south as Las Vegas, Nevada and as far east as Riverton, Wyoming.

Student Smiles Despite Memories Of War Years

By ROY CROSKREY

When you first meet this member of NNC's student body you are left with one of two impressions. Either, "What's the matter with this guy? Can't he speak English?" or, "Man, what a cheerful little bundle of joy." You see, it all depends on what mood he is in.

I don't want to keep you in suspense any longer. The person I am going to tell you about is Marcial Encarnacion. We all have our moods and most of the time you will find Marcial in a happy one, with a smile on his face as big as his heart.

But wait a minute, let me give you a few things about Marsh that most people will never know. You too will wonder why he smiles so much when you hear some of the story behind the smile.

It was during the war. Japan occupied the Philippine Islands. Marsh was just a small boy but he so vividly remembers the time he slept under the bridge all night by the small stream. This was his only shelter from the planes that were raining terror from the sky in the form of bombs. Yes, this really happened. It was only one incident. There were many more, such as witnessing his friends being forced to dig their own graves, then being executed and others of his own people forced to bury the dead. I could mention incidents of babies bayoneted by the enemy, mass genocide and various other hard to endure trials. Yet in the face of these terrible tribulations this lad managed to emerge with a spring in his step, a smile on his face, and a joy in his soul.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By DAVE JACKSON

Well, this ol' year is fast coming to a close. While I sit at my typewriter, pecking out the final column, I find that I am reminiscing over the wonderful times we have enjoyed this year at NNC—sportswise and otherwise.

A survey of the accomplishments of NNC athletic groups this year would seem to indicate that this may have been the greatest of all years for the Christian Crusaders.

Let's glance at some of the achievements thus far.

The basketball squad, under the superb coaching of Orrin E. Hills, won the District 5 NAIA title and traveled to Kansas City for the NAIA tournament.

The baseball boys of "Pop" Frazier slugged and pitched their way to the Northern Division title and the ICAC conference championship.

Tennis-wise Miss Rhodes' comely lob-sters made with the strokes on the tennis courts until they not only piled up an impressive record in the Boise Valley but made a jaunt to Corvallis, Ore. where they humbled the Oregon State College girls' team.

In other tennis play, Jim Bateman, the lad from Louisiana, copied the trophy for tennis singles in ICAC conference play. And the NNC doubles team of Roy Crockrey and Dan Etulain won runner-up honors in conference matches at Cedar City, Utah. Glenn Beers, tennis-playing theolog, coached the netmen this year.

Although the cindermen have not won any first places this year, several school records have been broken and the future is bright for track at NNC.

The highlight of the intramural sports program—the May 18 track meet—will be history by the time you read this. This is an event which features all the coke-fed athletes of the various societies.

They say that sudden use of muscles which have not been active for some time is too strenuous and may cause damage. This can be applied to mental muscles as well as physical, I suppose. My suggestion, therefore, (and I think that most of the professors will agree with me) is that you had better do a few mental calisthenics and some intellectual push-ups before that great week of final examinations.

Well . . . time to go. Baseball fellas: I had a lot more stuff about the travels and trials of Pop's boys but a relentless copyreader rudely slashed it from the page.

It's The Attitude That Really Counts

It is often said that attitudes are basic. This is true as what we are is more important than what we do. It is an attitude of heart that is important. Do we look down and fear that our association with those individuals who have known the grace in Christ, will hinder us instead of helping them.

I like to think as Geoffrey Bull thought when he penned the following phrase from a portion of God's Word: "This man receiveth sinners and eateth with them," he went on to say, "It is not so much as being afraid of being defiled when you touch the leper but actually means the beginning of his cleansing." This is the attitude of Jesus Christ.

If this greatest of all personalities were to walk our streets as He did in ancient Galilee, what would be His attitude? Doesn't He? Isn't Jesus Christ alive within those who profess Him? Let us consider His attitude. He made such remarks as "Love your enemies, Say no to self and follow Me, Go and sin no more." His entire life was centered around the idea of glorifying God. Love covers and does not expose. May our attitudes be found only in Jesus Christ.

FLASH! FLASH! A.W.S. ELECTION

In AWS elections this week the following officers were named: Virginia Horne, president; Rosemay Aman, vice president; Peg Jensen, secretary; Roxie Hull, treasurer; Ruthie Burkhart, program chairman; Willie Barber, assistant program chairman; Sandy Coombs, chaplain; Sharon Templeman, publicity chairman, and Naomi Alexander, H. S. representative.

Music Programs Featured In Closing Weeks of School

Double E. Hill, chairman of the division of fine arts, has announced a number of events to be sponsored by the division within the closing weeks of school.

Tuesday, May 21, a twilight band concert was presented at 6:30 p. m. under the direction of Prof. John M. Eby. Piano recitals by students of Alline M. Swann will be featured at 4 p. m. and 7 p. m. on May 23.

The Treble Choir and Male Chorus will present a combined program on May 24 at 8:15 p. m. Prof. Deloris Waller and Prof. James Carkhuff are choir directors.

On Saturday, May 25, a recital will be presented by Velma Mai Wright and Anna Mae Bauerle at 8:15 p. m. Jackie Watson, Dave Mattson and Paul Freeberg will present a recital on Saturday, June 1 at 8:15 p. m.

The Marilyn and Bill Armstrong music vespers program is scheduled for Sunday, June 2, at 5 p. m. in the college chapel.

TREES PROVIDE COMFORT, SHADE ON NNC CAMPUS

By ETHEL KRAFT

It was a beautiful evening, calm and clear, as I hurried homeward across the campus not without a fear. Yet, there was no cause to fear for on either side were guards to see me safely there.

Every day we pass beside their stately forms, beneath their outstretched boughs hurrying to classes, concerts, and cokes heedless of their manifest presence. This conclusion I draw after having asked the following question of 35 college students, "How many trees do you think there are on the campus?" The answers I received ranged from 25 to 150 trees.

NNC Baseball Team Wins Championship

They tried, trembled and triumphed. This is the victory story of the NNC baseball team.

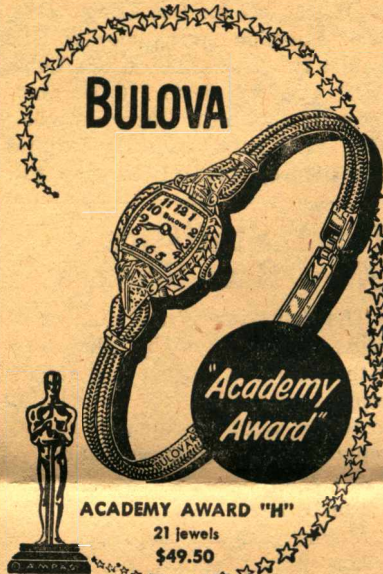

They tried by consistently playing top team ball both on the bench and on the field.

They trembled in those last inning wins and with the doubleheader with Ricks.

They triumphed by downing CSU 14-7 for the Intermountain championship and a good-sized trophy for the NNC trophy case.

Though the season is at an end the long homeruns hit by Duane Peppley and Bob Brooks will long be remembered. The pitching of Ed Crawford, who won two games in one day, also will be remembered by the Crusader fans. Don Crawford's stolen base earlier in the season is still causing some headshaking.

Besides good team play, hard work in practice, and sometimes the breaks of the game, you, the fans, helped make this year one of the best for our baseball team in the history of the school.

Individual Stars Spark Track Team

Despite the flu and strong opposition the NNC track team has shown impressive, individual wins in every meet this year. Besides personal battles between the Crusader's Don Constable and BJC's Jim Storey nearly all the Crusader thinclads have faced stiff competition.

In the opening meet NNC placed fourth. Winner of our invitational was Whitman, College of Walla Walla. Second was Weber, third was BJC and fourth NNC.

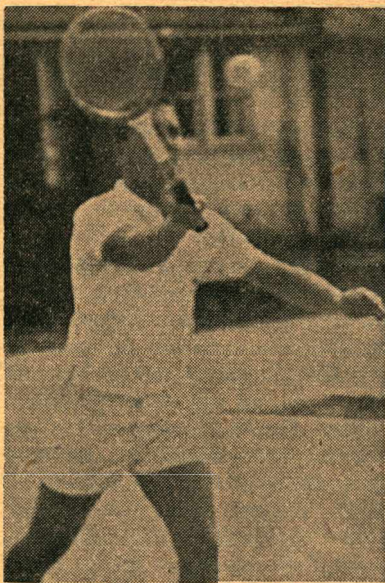

NNC placed third in the EOC invitational and second in the BJC meet in Boise. The Crusaders also placed second behind BJC in the Valley Triangle meet held in Bulldog bowl in Nampa.

In the Intermountain meet at Cedar City, Utah, Don Constable was the only NNC man to cop a first place ribbon. Constable outran Jim Storey of BJC, defeating him for the second time in their last three meetings. John Finkbeiner, star 880 and mile runner, placed second in the mile but failed to run in the 880 because of sickness. He later ran as anchor man in the mile relay and finished second for NNC. Winning time was 4:34 in the mile run.

The Crusader distance men, Harry Maine, Dale Ortney and Dave Busenbark, were only able to net a fourth place in the two-mile event.

School records broken this year include the high jump by Dan Martin at 5-10 3/4, and Don Constable in the 440.

The District NAIA meet will be held in Bozeman, Montana and NNC may compete with a limited number of trackmen.

Crusader Netters Take ICAC Win

The Crusader net team after leaving quite empty-handed returned last weekend victory laden and sporting a nice trophy and second place ribbons.

Winning for NNC in the singles was Jim Bateman and placing second in the doubles were Roy Croskrey and Dan Etulain. Bateman fought his way through the entire Intermountain tennis singles for the trophy.

Croskrey and Etulain after winning the semi-finals were dropped in a close match in the finals.

In other tennis action the girls' extra-mural team traveled to Oregon State and won a match with a group of Oregon State girls 3-2. LaDonna Nafziger was the only victor in the singles but the NNC girls picked up two wins in doubles play.

Girls' Tennis Grows Into Major Sport For Crusader Netters

By Betty Richardson

Growing from the "Sport of Kings" to "The King of Sports" tennis has become one of the world's most popular sports. This is true also of tennis on the campus of NNC. Three short years ago tennis was played only on a minimum scale on this campus. Today, not only the boys have a varsity team, but running close competition is the extra-mural girls' tennis team.

The girls' team was organized three years ago by Miss Rhodes. The team consisted of four members — Lois Morgan, Jo Wilcox, LaDonna Nafziger, and Betty Richardson. Playing only two matches that year, the team got a good start by winning both matches.

Returning the next year, all four girls continued to play on the team and to this group came new strength in the addition of five more girls—Vi Jahn, Roxie Hull, Shirlene Wallace, Norma Phillips, and Mary Ellen Kirkpatrick. Five matches were played this year without a set-back.

As interest has increased the level of skills has increased to the point of being able to be favorably compared with most girls' teams in even the larger colleges. This year has seen another step upward and also another successful season. With the season drawing to a close the year's record stands at four victories and one defeat. There remains to be played one more regularly scheduled match and then the NNC Invitational Tennis Meet, on May 18th.

The climax of the year came when the girls' team represented by Dorothy Mittleider, LaDonna Nafziger, Betty Richardson, and Kathy Stainkey journeyed to Oregon State College. This team met and defeated the extramural team from that college. Only four girls could make that trip but the strength of the team is greatly increased by the girls who did not go—Mary Waller, Minnie Humphrey, Joan Ogburn, Martha Hopkins, and Muriel Parsons.
