MISS WILKIE TELLS ABOUT AFRICAN WORK

Miss Lydia Wilkie, a Nazarene Missionary from Africa was speaker in chapel March 1st and 2nd. Miss Wilkie is a registered nurse and has spent several years in Africa. She is very happy in her work and is looking forward to returning this fall. She will be entering a new field, Portuguese Guinea. On Monday night, March 1st, she spoke at College Hill Church of the Nazarene. She showed some pictures taken while in Africa. Some of them were of the African people and some were colored pictures of the beautiful scenes found in Africa.

Miss Wilkie's talks were very practical. They reflect her interest in the African people and also the things she has been helping to do to right some of the terrible practices in Africa. She is a good speaker and we as students enjoyed her visit to our school.

She worked some with Miss Gladys Owen, former Trevecca student and new Missionary on the field.

Headaches End With Term Papers

Some of the students seemed so dazed when confronted with the assignment to write a term paper for their different classes and subjects, that the teachers of these classes set about to enlighten them upon the matter. Dr. Gresham, Miss Hooper and Mrs. Mackey dismissed their regular classes for two periods one week in order to give some information concerning "How to Write a Term Paper."

Knowing that some of the students had never before written a paper like this, Dr. Gresham gave a lecture with outlines on the subject; Mrs. Mackey spoke on "How to Use The Library" in the making of the paper. Free typewritten guides supplied by the school were given to everyone. These two lectures certainly made the task a little brighter—much brighter!

After the papers are turned in next week, students can breathe a sigh and say, "It wasn't so bad after all." (That is if directions have been followed and one's best has been put into it.)

Sunday School Rally Features Dr. Eckley at TNC

Rev. L. E. Eckley, New York District Superintendent, is touring with Rev. J. D. Saxon, Tennessee District Superintendent and Rev. L. J. Scherrer, District Chairman "in the interest of better Sunday Schools."

The District Sunday School Tour sponsored by Tennessee District church School Board is scheduled for March 4-14.

March 7th at Nashville First Church of the Nazarene these men will be present at 10:45 a.m. At 2:30 p.m. that afternoon a city-wide zone rally will gather here at Trevecca. Again that evening Nashvillians may hear Rev. Eckley at Third Church at the 7:30 hour. Plan to attend these services.

LET IN THE "SUNSHINES" EACH SUNDAY

By Tex Powers

Uh-uh-uh—don't turn off that alarm! Get up, stretch those tired limbs, stifle a covinous yawn and turn on your radio. Wait for it to warm up (keep moving or you'll go back to sleep—after all it's only 8:30). Turn the variable condenser until the indicator points to 980 kilocycles and then settle down in a big easy chair for fifteen full minutes of real listening pleasure. The announcer will greet you with the call letters WSIX, perhaps announce the time, and then introduce to you radio's newest singing sensation—the Sunshine Boys. The makers of Snow White Ice Cream present these novel singers each Sunday morning, rendering well-known hymns, spirituals, and gospel songs in their own inevitable manner. These boys are Trevecca products, having as their pianist Mrs. H. L. Slonecker. Bill Slonecker sings first tenor; Billy Anderson harmonizes on second tenor; Bob Benson handles the baritone job; and Herman Slonecker holds down the bass spot.

Doubtless you've heard the old proverb: "Sunshine precedes showers" or words to that effect. The Sunshine Boys were not to be outdone: consequently, "Showers of Blessings" follows the "Sunshine" program. So don't forget to make hay while the sunshines each Sunday morning at 8:30 over WSIX. This program is strictly for your listening pleasure; don't miss this treat. Incidentally, if you enjoy the program, drop a line—a penny post card will do—to station WSIX, and tell them you enjoy the shortest fifteen minutes in radio—the Sunshine Boys!

COME TONIGHT!

Rev. George Woodward, chalk artist and evangelist, has been in Trevecca's chapel and evening services since March 2nd. Those who have seen and heard him thus far will not want to miss the service again tonight and those through Sunday evening. Service begins at 7:30 P.M.

Robert McClain Is Seventh In Family To Attend Trevecca

Robert Andrew McClain, present Trevecca high school senior is the seventh McClain to attend Trevecca Nazarene College. The first McClain enrolled about 1935.

Judy, now Mrs. Bob Stephenson; Ethel, now Mrs. L. K. Mahler; L. R., who married Miss Opal McCurley and who now operates a grocery business; and Clara, who graduated from high school here last June all live in Cookeville, Tennessee near their parents. Gertrude, now Mrs. E. S. Wood lives in Biloxi, Mississippi and Sarah, who just this past summer married Don Sumner now lives in Miami, Florida. Only one out of the eight children did not reach Trevecca's doors and live under its influence for a brief period.

Nashvillians Train For Christian Work In Institute; Hear Dr. Strang Speak

The Christian Service Training Institute was held this year February 22-27, at First Church of the Nazarene in Nashville. Dr. C. B. Strang, pastor of the First Church of the Nazarene in Bethany, Oklahoma was the special speaker. D. F. Siler was chairman. The classes of the Institute met each evening from 7-8. They were as follows: 501a—Enlisting and Developing Workers, taught by Dr. C. B. Strang; 311a—Teaching Youth, taught by Dr. A. K. Bracken; 140a—How to Understand our Pupils, taught by Mrs. A. K. Bracken; 120a—The Life of Christ, taught by Rev. H. H. Wise. Also beginning at 8:00 each evening Dr. Strang brought the message. This was attended by many who did not attend the classes. Plans for a greater Institute are already in progress for next year.

Old-Fashioned Box Supper To Be Held Friday, March 12th

"TO EAT OR NOT TO EAT" AN UPTO-DATE PROVERB; H. S. JUNIORS THINK

Hey, day, diddle o-a, sold to the man with the money in his hand. Sorry you didn't get in on that last sale, folks, but here we have a prize package. Now, what am I bid for this beautiful little box so neatly packed, and beautifully decorated? It's a real master-piece. Come on now—speak right up—don't be bashful—what am I bid?

Friday, March 12, the walls of the college cafeteria will vibrate with the auctioneer's chant at the real old-fashioned box supper to be presented by the high school juniors. Pretty girls will sit tensely with elated breath as their lunch box, filled with ample food for two, comes underneath the auctioneer's call, for her gallant true-love must outbid all comers to acquire the box with its delicacies, prepared for you by the blushing lady with the lily white hands. To him who bids the highest goes the pleasure of sharing lunch with the fair maiden who was the instigator of this so-called "meal" (?)

The foremost purpose of this promising event is to secure funds for the all-school project. Trevecca has a number of milestones to pass before she joins the ranks of the accredited colleges of America. This will require money. Money which will come only through doing their part by donating the proceeds of this gala affair to the project fund. So, come on, guys and gals, dig out those boxes, grab a musty crust of bread, bring your cash and we'll meet at the cafeteria, March 12, from 5-8 p.m. and have one more good time, besides doing our part for Trevecca. Come now, what am I bid for this fine box? It's a real beauty. One dollar once, twice—going, going, and gone.

Faculty Speak And Listen According To Chapel Schedule

God has really blessed by providing the good Chapel speakers that have been present. The week of February 19-20 was devoted to men on the Faculty. We have the opportunity of seeing them each day and yet it is always an honor to have them as speakers. They are as follows: Monday, Brother Spencer; Tuesday, Prof. Great-house; Wednesday, Dr. Mackey; Thursday, Dr. Bracken; Friday, Prof. Richardson. For the week of February 23-27 it was an honor to have Dr. C. B. Strang as the speaker in Chapel services. He was in Nashville as the special speaker and worker in the Christian Service Training Institute. Dr. Strang is pastor of the First Church of the Nazarene in Bethany, Oklahoma. This is the largest church in the Nazarene movement. He is a great speaker and he presented a lot of information in a very little time. Did you take notes on his messages? If you did you have (continued on page 3)

Strasbaugh Now Heads Laundry

Wilson Strasbaugh recently has taken over the Trevecca Laundry Agency in the barber shop. Students who have used this service, such as Rob Staples and Robert Allen, can vouch for the satisfaction it gives customers. Most of the boys, and few girls know of the service and convenience that can be offered them by taking their laundry and dry cleaning to Mr. Strasbaugh. If you have not tried this service before, prove it by test.

Sat. 5-6 P. M.

Good Morning, I mean Evening . . . well, anyhow, Howdy- Sweet Patooties! How's the weather treating you? By the way, did you like the paper last week? Good! I'm glad you did - - -

Now for the good news from up here beyond the McClurkan building. Had the snow still been here, I would describe it to you, but it is gone—Had the sleet still been falling, I could have told you how it beat upon the student's heads, but there is no sleet—Had the sun been shining, I could have written a line or two about the "beautiful southern romantic sunlight", but even it has vanished. Guess what? We still have something in order, though, and that's the couples 'round here! LEWIS PENNINGTON got disappointed once when he found LOIS FERGUSON gone. Ask him and see what he says.

We have a Romeo here but he can't seem to find a Juliet. He is CARL GRAY. The Juliets have been quite a number of girls, but ANN ROGERS was the latest - - -

KATHRYN BOONE carries on interesting conversations over the phone. HILTON GILLESPIE says that he wishes to speak to KATHRYN - that he only wants to speak a word and they keep on talking. Sounds exciting!

Look twice at BILLY ANDERSON and NELL SUTTON. When she wears a red sweater, he wears a red shirt, etc. Cute idea. CAROLINE HALL and CHARLES HANEY are about as bad.

Whee-eee-eeee Lookie! Lookie! POLLY McCOSH was here and did you see her ring? Lucky people-----

By the way, people have more fun than anyone except horses and they get to go bed with shoes on. CHRISTELLE GAINOUS and HAROLD MILLS happened to be at Trevecca the same day. Could it be that they had it planned? Plans are wonderful except mine never work.

We were glad to have had JACKIE and SHERRY visiting CAROLINE and LOU OUIDA. Come back again sometime. Lots more visitors here. WELCOME TO T. N. C. anytime.

MARY STOVALL got a package in the mail. It was a picture of JOHN. For a peak at him look in Room 2B.

I made a serious mistake last time in the paper. I said something about GLADYS VIRGINIA GRIGGS and James TAYLOR. The correct way is James DAVID Taylor.

J. W. ROSS—All people are not conceited, honestly, they aren't! Ask someone who knows.

MARY LAURA and BEN SPEER are cute together.

BECKY GRAYSON and VELVETA GERLING have been looking at the ground lately. Perhaps they are taking a course in Zoology, but I believe that BOB and ANDY would be the solution, don't you? or perhaps LEON and BRUCE will do?

GALENA BROWN and GEORGE PRIVETT have been seeing each other lately and from what I can detect (I am a detective) they don't look bad at all.

DORIS JEWELL really has a scientific mind. She was working in the lab and tried to turn the microscope on high HORSE power.

Have you kids heard the latest? It seems that LOYD HARRISON has a new girl. Anyhow he hooked her on the Old Hickory bus! In case you're really and honest-to-goodness interested, you might ask GERRY NAIL.

CLARABELLE HARDESTY has been practically floating on air the past few days. Her beau-feller, JERRY was here over the week-end. You gals that would be concerned ask for information. They say that it's grand to be in love.

Don't take it so hard NILE, she only went home for the week-end. MARTY, honey, don't leave very often.

In Platform Speaking the other day, ROBERT GRAY was supposed to be giving an impromptu speech. The following subjects were given him—WOMEN, POLITICS AND MICE. He really hit the target by saying, "I'm afraid of them all!"

Ask RALPH MATTINGLY just what type of baptism he believes in—He'll tell you and you won't need to fear of being sprinkled! I don't blame you, RALPH, I believe in the same kind.

They tell me that two heads are better than one, even in Greek! Proof: BETTY SUE and JOHN HAMBY seem to have every lesson just right.

LAVERNE CASE is getting a car. NITA EBY wants to go on a "Missionary tour". Wait NITA, don't forget me.

The new soloist in chorus is FLUFFIE CALKINS. She made a big hit the other night.

HENRY COOPER'S girl from Jacksonville, Florida, AUDREY SHAW, was here last week end and stayed with the Geiger sisters.

We deeply appreciate BILLY CRANE in his efforts to keep our chapel speakers from suffocating in chapel. Those were noble efforts even though some of the windows would not stay open, Billy.

Bye for now.

POSITIVE CHRISTIANS

"You don't dance? Or go to the movies? How strange! Why not?"

"My church doesn't approve of it."

"Oh."

How often you've heard it. Perhaps given the answer yourself? There are some things Nazarene young people "don't do."

It was a good answer and good reason—only it did not go far enough, or deep enough. Is it "our church" only that disapproves, or is it we ourselves? And if so, why?

Is it the things themselves, or just their names, that we frown on? Is it the actions, or just their labels? We rule out "dancing," but we enjoy "petting"? We have convictions against the sensational movie, but we drink in cheap radio dramas and suggestive "funnies"? Vaudeville is taboo, but not suggestive jokes and skits that are vaudeville in essence? We would not play bridge, for playing cards leads to gambling; yet we take "chances" at fairs and amusement parks and perhaps in other places? When I am asked as I have been publicly, "Why is dancing wrong with you Nazarenes, but petting right, when both involve the same temptation and open the door to the same sin?" my answer is, "If you want to be a real Christian, you indulge in neither,"

A radio speaker used this phrase: "that ugly thing, a good time." He meant that the sort of thing that is usually thought of as a good time easily degenerates into evil. Coarse music dulls the ear for fine. Cheap comics spoil the taste for intellectual and spiritual development. "Necking" and "petting" kill the capacity for one pure relationship. Gossip chokes out love. Any pursuit that dulls the relish for God and His interests is "worldliness." "If you have this, you cannot have that."

He meant also that lives devoted to "good times" lose their Christian beauty, which is self-forgetful devotion to the will of God. The one worthy rule for our choice of activities is Paul's: "whatsoever ye do, do all in the name of the Lord Jesus." Leave out things that cannot be done in His name, representing His character and His interests. But more—do those things that will represent Him worthily.

To share the program of Christ you must share the nature of Christ. You must be partaker of His spirit. And that means an operation. It means the cruel, loving knife of the Heavenly Surgeon. Only He can remove from the human heart the love of the world that fascinates, the love of self that will not, cannot, put Christ first. If at the roots of your nature there is a streak of indifference, no amount of resolving will make you a positive Christian.—Bertha Munro (Conquest, March, 1948)

FOUR THINGS

Four things a man must learn to do
If he would make his record true:
To think without confusion clearly;
To love his fellow-men sincerely;
To act from honest motives purely;
To trust God and Heaven securely.

OUR OWN TALENT
Challenge to Memory

By Joy Oliver

Down the memory of life, well-trodden by those who are walking there too, I find thoughts, facts, and every little thing that you used to do. The way that you towered above my head and whispered, "I love you." Not a simple "three little words," but the feeling of God's presence shining through.

Shall the vivid present memory haunt me day after day,
Or shall I ever have the feeling that there is a future down life's way?
The future? Yes, and opportunities opening that seem really gay,
But what about the things we planned and the things we used to say?

Can life be full and rich and carefree, without pain?
Without the fear of all the air castles being blown to bits again?
Or is there always a rainbow after the horrible clouds and rain?
Just to know that all is clear and everything is our gain?

Neither of us will be able to put patches on our wounded hearts,
Because mistakes are prone to prove that they are poison darts.
But can we live in memory and pretend we're together—not apart?
No, life itself is what we make it, so—today let's start!

So You're Too Busy?

Leonardo da Vinci, whose notes deserve almost as much significance as his paintings, wrote, "Time stays long enough for those who use it."

John Erskine wrote many of his books in small margins of time. Here a sentence, there a paragraph, somewhere else a page. Arnold Gingrich, formerly editor of Coronet, wrote a one hundred and fifteen thousand word novel without losing a day from a full-time job; every night he went into hibernation with his typewriter until the job was done. Emily Post keeps up with her correspondence by carrying a pen, paper and postage in her handbag, and writes to her friends during odd moments.

I know many Christians who carry a pocket Testament so they can feed on the Word during their spare time. The whole idea of the Navigator system for Scripture memory is to make use of in-between moments. Dr. Oswald Smith, who pastors People's Church in Toronto, walks while he prays so he can get his daily exercise and talk to God at the same time.

Make your activities a matter of prayer. A friend of mine was recently offered a fine job, just the sort of thing she had always wanted. Before making a hasty decision, however, she asked for time to seek the Lord's will. She didn't take the job.

In your prayer and planning, seek to channel your talent into the work best suited for you. If you can't carry a tune, be big enough to step out of the choir and humble enough to help sort the Sunday-school papers or some similar job which must be done.

Remember always that a full life is a rich life, while an overcrowded life makes the individual miserable and often numbs the effectiveness of everything he does.

Millionaires and paupers, kings and serfs, all have but twenty-four hours a day in which to live. Nothing you invest for God means more in the full measure of eternity than the investment of your time. Invest it wisely.

—Ken Anderson (Conquest, Sept., 1947)

Dimes Are Big!

Dimes saved one by one can add up day by day, week by week, and month by month until if each student of Trevecca would save one dime per week for missions, in one year's time there would be over $1400 available for missions from Trevecca Nazarene College.

Think of what our Nazarene colleges could do for missions each year if they would save, for we are just one of the smaller of the schools!

Ahhhh—Spring is here (coming). Say, gals, you know in the spring a young man's fancy turns to — to — softball—I fooled you, didn't I? You thought I was going to say LOVE. Well, just between the two of us—some of them don't think of anything but softball (period). We'll leave the boys alone for a while. I've got something to tell you—

As you know there haven't been any games played as yet, but the College is getting up a team, and the High School is getting a team and during the next few days we're going to play some ball. Most of the girls want to play basket ball now. Then later we can play soft ball and volley ball.

The most important thing is to come to the Athletic Meeting, Thursday at 4:00 p. m. We have to discuss what we're going to do. If you're not there you won't be able to put in your 2 cents.

Well, time's getting short and I must say so long.

Don't guess you girls find it hard to loose weight this year—It's leap year you know. Keep those fellows running—it's good exercise.

Bye, bye.

Moments of Meditation

By Lou Ouida Carlton

WHITE SPIRES

It was Sunday morning. My soul was restless and ill at ease. The cares of life rested heavily upon me. From many yesterdays, regrets depressed my spirit. The pressure of unknown tomorrows would not depart.

I entered the village church and found a seat near the a side wall. The worshippers came, singly or in family groups. Reverent silence prevailed. In a window on the opposite side I read the words, "Peace be within thy walls." The Prelude finished, the congregation sang,

Breathe, oh, breathe, Thy loving Spirit
 Into every troubled breast.
 Drop thy still dews of quietness,
 Till all our strivings cease:
 Take from our souls the strain and stress;
 And let our ordered lives confess
 The beauty of Thy peace.
 Breathe through the pulses of desire
 Thy coolness and Thy balm;
 Let sense be dumb, its beats expire:
 Speak through the earthquake, wind and fire,
 O still small voice of calm!
 —Streams in the Desert.

The minister intoned the introit,

"I was glad when they said unto me,
 Let us go now into the house of the Lord."

The sermon was neither profound nor eloquent as we are wont to use those terms. It was simple and earnest, and seemed to be born of a deep desire to be helpful to any listener who might feel need of the help of God. As the sermon progressed the preacher receded more and more into the background. To the fore came the image of the Friend of sinners, of Him who said, "Let not your heart be troubled: ye believe in God, believe also in me."

With the benediction echoing in my thoughts, I returned home. No longer did my yesterdays distress one, nor the tomorrows disturb me. The peace of God which passes all understanding had filled my soul.

Marion Lumpkin, first quarter college freshman, and Miss Edna Acreman of Fairfax, Alabama were married February 23rd, Sunday morning just after the regular church service.

Students sent Marion a sympathy card in keeping (?) with the occasion.

Floridians Go To Strasbaugh Home

Floridians and guests totaling forty were entertained at Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Strasbaugh's home in South Nashville the evening of March 1st.

Games planned by Henry Cooper, Richard Lord, Don Hale, and Billie Edwards were begun outdoors but the rain quickly drove the party inside. Jimmy Errickson and Ruby Geiger planned a menu consisting of cole slaw, potatoe salad, boiled weiners, and cold drinks.

Miss Virginia Hurt, Mrs. James Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Blackmon, Mrs. T. J. Eby, Mrs. J. P. Jernigan, Mrs. L. A. Fahringer, and Miss Audrey Shaw were special guests. Besides these, the Spencer family, and the Florida Club members were some student friends from numerous other state clubs.

LAST OF BASKETBALL GAMES IN HUME-FOGG GYM PROVES JEWELL AS HIGH-POINT MAN

Skimp Sketch

Where? Kentucky? You don't mean Gobe, Kentucky? I'll declare and that's where you were born? When? August 16, 1932. Of all the things! I know a Trevecca high school senior who fits those answers.

She likes chicken (does chicken help one gain weight?) and collects pictures and is interested in men, period. Her testimony is that she found Jesus Christ as her personal Savior when she was six years old, two weeks later she was sanctified. She lives on the third floor of McKay Hall. She's tall and has brown hair and I believe she has blue eyes. Do you know her? You do? her name is - - -

Kentucky is a wonderful place, has beautiful girls and fast horses. Here is proof that pretty specimens of feminine beauty come from Gobe, Kentucky.

Description? Sure! She entered into this world August 31, 1930. Her favorite food is fried chicken and ice cream together. She was saved at the early age of 8 and sanctified two weeks later. Her hobby is, and I quote, "I save everything everybody gives me." She measures everything not by inches but by "RODS". She is 5ft. 1 inch tall, brown hair and eyes to match. Sounds good, doesn't it?

The last two games played down at the Hume-Fogg gym saw the Freshman and Sophmores 2 triumph over the Soph 1 and High School respectively.

In the first game the score was 33 to 28 with Ford Boone ringing up 16 points to lead the Sophs while Stocks led the winners with 15.

In the second game the High school fell from the ranks of the undefeated to the rampaging Soph 2 team. Spencer led the losers with 11 points and Jewell led the Sophs with 17 who incidently is high point man up to now with 66 points.

In the first game played on the local court, the Soph 2 fell to the high school by a score of 37 to 27. Anderson led the winners with 14 points and Ford Boone again topped the Sophs with 14 markers.

In the first of the second session the Soph 2 downed the Soph 1 by a score of 36 to 27. Jewell led the winners with 16 points and A. D. Boone the Soph 1 with 11.

The high school took their second task of the season from the upperclassmen to the tune of 35 to 30. It was a close game from the beginning with the score staying practically tied the whole game. Cain led the high school with 14 and Lang the upperclassmen with 20 which is the highest score in one game for one player.

The standing as of now are:

Soph. 2	5	0
High school	3	2
Frosh	2	2
Upperclassmen	2	3
Soph. 1	0	5

TREVECCA STUDENTS OUR FIRST CONSIDERATION

PERSONALLY SPEAKING

RAY DUNNING

I was born near Clarksville and lived there all my life except the first six months.

My life had been rather mediocre until September of 1941 when I was saved at the Nazarene church in Clarksville. I was sanctified some time after that and answered the call to preach on July 4, 1942 which was on Sunday and began preaching on the following Wednesday night in a tent revival sponsored by my home church.

After finishing my high school work in Clarksville, I came to Trevecca and started on the most eventful four years in my life, full of good times and blessings. Trevecca has made a contribution to my life that nothing else could have done.

I have had three years pastoral experience from 1943-45 and was ordained in September, 1947 in the Tennessee District Assembly.

My plans now are to attend the Seminary and after that, enter a pastorate.

DORIS FORBES

I was born November 19th in Franklin County, Virginia. Some years later my parents moved.

As far back as I can remember I have wanted to be a Christian. At the Penhook Camp, July, 1938, under the ministry of Rev. Warren C. McIntyre, I found the Lord as my personal Savior. A few days later, at the same camp after meeting conditions, the Holy Spirit came in His sanctifying power and cleansed my heart from inbred sin.

After much prayer and meditation the way was opened for me to attend a holiness school. I arrived on Trevecca campus January 5, 1939, to enter my last year of grade school. Since that time I have completed four years of high school and expect to finish college in June. These years at Trevecca have been the happiest years of my life. The Lord has been very near and precious to me. I have found His grace is sufficient for me at all times.

The only plan I have for the future is to obey the leadings of the Holy Spirit and give my life in service for others.

Alabama Preachers Hear TNC Report From Richardson; Ed and Lottie Sing

Mr. Richardson has just returned from the Alabama District preacher's meeting held in Tuscaloosa, Alabama, February 23-27 Ed and Lottie Phillips accompanied him, and sang several times during the meeting and "brought down the house." They stayed at the Phillips' home while there.

Rev. Otto Stucki, Alabama District superintendent, presided, and Rev. A. J. Gunter was host pastor. Special workers were General Superintendent H. V. Miller and Professor L. A. Reed from the Nazarene Theological Seminary.

In a preliminary service, Mr. Richardson spoke for fifteen minutes describing briefly the place of Christian education in the program of the Church of the Nazarene and he presented the need for the building expansion program which Trevecca is now in.

Before leaving for Alabama, Mr. Richardson spoke in chapel on the subject, "Things that I have told the constituency about Trevecca Nazarene College." He listed the following items:

1. Beautiful grounds
2. Attractive buildings
3. Fine facilities
4. Faculty of nonmerosary Christian ladies and gentlemen.
5. 95% Christian student body
6. First things first
7. Religious atmosphere
8. Good attitudes in hardship
9. Purpose: Rescue the perishing and care for the dying.

He gave these points as an incentive for the students to strive to make all of them true.

Friday Programs Prove Patriotic

Miss Hooper's Speech Class presented a panel discussion February 20th. The subject was "What should be done to improve the medical care for the people in the United States." Charles Phipps made a good chairman as enthusiastic members of the panel made their many contributions.

February is certainly an appropriate time for Patriotic Reviews. Mr. Spencer's High School American History Class presented "This is America" on the 28th of the month.

"Faith of Our Fathers" and the "Star Spangled Banner" were numbers rendered by the quartet. Bobby Hoots very effectively gave Lincoln's "Gettysburg Address," "I Am An American" given by Laura Benson, "Declaration of Independence" by Dorothy Ruth Williams, "From the Man Without a Country" by Eugene Cain, "Speech to Congress, April 2, 1917" by Roy Philemon, "The Great Adventure" by J. W. Ross, and "John Smith" by Geneva Mays were the other presentations. One's heart is made to thrill as he says with Robert McClain at the conclusion "I am an American."

PERSONALLY SPEAKING

JASPER JENKINS

Near Cleveland, Mississippi on May 14, 1923, I was born in the home of my parents, George H. and Lela M. Jenkins. In that home six other children were born and since my parents were poor we all had to work hard for Which I am very thankful.

Almost as far back as I can remember the call of the ministry has been upon my heart and and in January 1944, I began working my way through college to prepare for that work. Since coming here, I have taken an active part in Christian work and am now N.Y.P.S. President at Woodbine. Trevecca has meant much to me and I am thankful for the training I have received.

In March, 1946 I married Sara Breed, whom I had met the year before and we feel that we are in God's will. We are looking forward to pastoring a church when I graduate in June and we are both completely surrendered to God.

Ask and Learn

I asked the following people what was their first thought in the morning. Here are the answers I got. Figure them out if you can. I can't.

Becky Grayson-What am I going to wear?

Nita Eby-I don't think. I just listen to the Speers.

Marie Perry-If I can get the tub

Del Lobb-If the alarm will go off five minutes later.

Grace Eby-If I can find the alarm clock.

Geneva Mays-Sometimes I think whether I am going to breakfast and sometimes I am hoping I have my lessons.

Doris Jewell-I don't have any thoughts.

Keith Bottles-Give me five minutes more.

Fluff- Hee! Hee!, I don't know, why?
